

Words from patient, Diana R.

Testimonials are important for patients because as long as they are genuine they do assist in making a valid decision regarding the treatment.

Every chiropractor should be able to collect this information for patient care.