Testimonials essentially allow me to get a review of what a chiropractor is able to do. They also allow me to educate others about the benefits of chiropractic care. It allows potential patients to hear from actual patients about their experience with a certain chiropractor so a patient can get a better idea about which chiropractor might be the best 'fit' for them. It also allows potential patients to see what types of health concerns chiropractors might be able to help with.

Personally, testimonials helped to find out about local chiropractic care available and that it could help with chronic headaches I as having at the time which I no longer have, thanks to chiropractic.
